To...YOU

Hi! How have you been? Every single day is good. I am on summer break and am glad to hear that you are planning to come to Taiwan. How long has it been since we did not hang out together? Did you know? Taiwan is the origin of bubble milk tea, a paradise for milk tea lovers! Many tea shops are located less than one hundred meters apart and along both sides of the street. They have many kinds of drinks. I think you would fall in love with this place.

Do you remember the tea shop that I told you last time? The tea shop called "Cha nom mo<sup>1</sup>" where is a small shop under the White Cheesewood trees, next to the stadium, and on the opposite side is a basketball court. The roof of the shop is painted dark brown which contrasts with the clean white walls in minimalism, making you feel simple and cozy. If you walk through that way, it is easy to notice it because there is only one shop over there. This shop is one of my favorite tea shops. Although the drinks are not many as in other shops outside the school, Fresh milk black tea and Fresh milk Oolong tea are as delicious as in other shops. The highlight of this shop is using milk, which is a dairy product from the Department of Animal Sciences. It is so fresh and creamy! Fresh milk Oolong tea is my favorite milk tea that I always order from this shop. I love oolong tea because of its unique light burnt aroma. This aroma is caused by the fermentation and roasting of tea leaves. Even after drinking and swallowing it, the smell of tea still lingered in my mouth. There is nothing better than finding your favorite drink as if you meet someone you like! There are two types of bubbles which are golden bubbles and brown sugar bubbles. I have tried just only the brown one. The bubbles are so soft, chewy, and lightly sweet. Delicious! I heard they have added more new drinks lately, such kinds of Matcha tea, but I have never tested them! We can try them together later. The shop opens from 2 p.m. - 10 p.m. on weekdays. Don't worry! It still opens even though the school is on summer break. Take note!! There is a discount for students and the customers who bring their own cups!

P.S. A picture is worth a thousand words.

See you!
